Situated in the epicenter of New York City which many consider to be the heartbeat of the world and directly across from Central Park on famed Fifth Avenue is LUXURGERY©. LUXURGERY© epitomizes the confluence of luxury and aesthetic surgery. Our team, led by founder, Dr. Sachin M. Shridharani, is an aesthetic/cosmetic fellowship trained plastic and reconstructive surgeon dedicated to delivering the highest standard of care in Manhattan. The LUXURGERY© practice is committed to offering you the finest in plastic surgery procedures. Our goal is to provide carefully selected surgical and non-surgical solutions for clients/patients aiming to achieve harmonious, natural, and beautiful lasting results.From the first steps up to our office, which is situated directly across from Central Park, it is clear that there is pure attention to detail. In addition, the office has multiple easily accessible direct and private entrances allowing for the highest level of anonymity for our patients who require full discretion.Our patients have the ability to have their procedures performed onsite or at area hospitals and “surgicenters” in New York City. Our operating room and facility have certification and accreditation by the American Association for Accreditation of Ambulatory Surgery Facilities (AAAASF). We provide patients with the option of having their procedure performed in the safety, convenience, and comfort of our office/facility.
