Along the picturesque Eiprova Street in Ljubljana, surrounded by old chestnut trees, we at the Culinary House of Manna will serve you divine dishes on Earth. Those of us who prepare the food and select the finest wines at Manna Restaurant do not use big words in order to understand everything magical happening around us. Our chef says that he is aware of a “manna”; that he recognises it as the very allure that later becomes a fanciful idea for a new recipe. The Culinary House of Manna has been a favourite among all walks of life: businessmen, families, individuals as well as celebrities, musicians and ambassadors. The divine dishes of our House have also been tasted by the former first lady of the United States of America Laura Bush.
