We offer full in-house support across innovative structural design and state-of-the-art demographics. This is complemented by the highest levels of quality and reliability throughout the entire production process. We continue to redefine expectations through our superior levels of commitment in everything that we achieve.

Max Marketing & Publishing Ltd is led by Malik Asghar, a focused and progressive individual who pre-empts clients’ needs, is geared to tackle new challenges and innovations, and leaves no stone unturned to deliver the required results. As the Founder and Director, Malik has ensured the Max team thinks alike, and the results are evident in every project, big or small.
