From the very first days, the focus of our family has been on our clients. That’s why, as our business evolved over the years, we always embraced change. Because to stay the same would mean falling behind. We never wanted to just keep up; we always wanted to lead the way. Innovation became one of our guiding principles…it’s a key reason why today Unitex has such a prestigious range of linen and apparel rental clients, large and small, across the northeast. This brief timeline gives a quick glimpse of how we got here.

We’re the largest family-owned healthcare service provider in the country. Because our family is involved in every inch of the business, our unflagging attention to detail results in a clear advantage for you and your business. Now in our 4th generation, we continue to provide our clients the kind of quality, cleanliness, and service that has become the unrivaled standard. We don’t make idle promises; we don’t cut corners; we always strive to exceed expectations. That is, simply, the way this family business has always been run. And because we closely watch and refine and improve every inch of our business every day, when it comes to laundry, linen, and uniforms, Unitex gives you a competitive advantage.
