Managing Partners Thomas Khammar and Brent Parsons have been in business together since 2007. With their real estate experience and financial backgrounds, they have established Power Property Management as a leading management company in the greater Los Angeles market, serving communities from Long Beach to the San Fernando Valley. We recently expanded our reach to include the Spokane, Washington market. PPM now successfully manages some 3,300 single and multi-family properties.

In order to provide consistent, quality service, Power Property Management works with dozens of authorized, independent vendors. We log, track and verify every work order until a project is completed to the satisfaction of both owner and tenant.

We understand how valuable your investment is and always treat it with the utmost care. Our professional services will free you from the day-to-day tasks of property management and bring you peace of mind.
