My love for photography runs deep. I am passionate about every single shoot that I do and love being able to capture my clients’ memories so they can look back on them with joy years from now. I believe my job is to anticipate what is going to happen so that I can capture the special moments that happen between the shots—whether that be a soulful gaze or a sly smirk—the candid moments are the ones that mean the most! I prefer to keep my images classic and polished, not too over-processed, but natural and bright.
