Martide is an all-encompassing maritime platform that is able to effortlessly merge and optimize all the various aspects of crew management into one cohesive digital space. We offer an entirely integrated and efficient solution for ship-owners and ship-managers to fully crew a fleet of vessels.

Our system is able to connect with all known legacy recruitment and crewing systems a ship-manager/owner might already have. Martide is able to enhance crewing operations by offering a cloud-based solution, which links together new (and existing) manning agents, web recruitment, social media channels, travel/flights, HR and Crewing systems into one inter-operable ‘agnostic’ cloud-based platform.

The Martide system is purpose-built for small to medium ship-owners and operators, to allow them to control or outsource their crewing processes as much as they want, and bring transparency to the entire crewing process chain.
