Does your commercial property have asbestos containing materials that you want to get cleaned or get rid of? Amicus Environmental offers a wide range of asbestos removal, management and soft strip services. An enormous amount of asbestos containing materials was used in the construction of new and refurbished buildings until, the use of all asbestos materials was finally prohibited in 1999. As a result of this, asbestos containing materials can be often be found in or around your buildings. If you want to get rid of them, call us now or write to us at m.carter@amicus-environmental.co.uk. We will fix you a sweet deal.
