Phil Crews Commercial

19B Desborough Lane
Plymouth, PL4 9PJ
United Kingdom
+441752225748
https://commercialgasservices.co.uk/

Company logo

Company logo

If you’re looking for highly experienced and professional commercial gas engineers or commercial plumbers who are based in the South West to install, maintain and repair your systems and equipment, look no further than Phil Crews. Specialising in commercial boiler installations, commercial boiler repairs and commercial boiler servicing, the team at Phil Crews are also equipped to carry out commercial catering installations, commercial gas services and gas safety inspections. Alongside commercial work, they can also supply your industrial premises with industrial heating services.

Based in Plymouth, the team serve the city and the surrounding areas and also cover the wider South West region. They can also take on jobs in locations further afield upon request. Phil Crews proudly serve business of all sizes and deliver the same professional service to every one of them. They are highly experienced working in the commercial industry and have provided work for a wide range of sectors. These include industrial premises such as factories, garages and workshops, the leisure industry including sports halls, community centres and gyms, as well as restaurants, hotels and cafes within the hospitality sector. In addition, they have completed work within the retail industry and the education sector.

With over 30 years’ experience working in the heating and plumbing industry, the company pride themselves on delivering excellent service with high quality work and fantastic customer care. The expert team are Gas Safe registered, fully insured and also members of the Water Regulations Advisory Scheme. Every engineer and plumber is fully trained and qualified, ensuring that all of their clients receive a high-quality service with the best possible result.

For a competitively priced, reliable, friendly and professional service that can cover all your commercial plumbing and heating needs, you can count on Phil Crews to complete the job.

Generated by Mapolist.com 19/11/2026 03:24