Poppy Print is a small printers in Kettering, Northamptonshire. Having been established in August 2008 we have quickly grown into a high quality reliable business that is small but very versatile. With the services of Design, Digital Print, Lithographic Print and full in-house print finishing capabilities we call ourselves a complete one stop print shop. Our friendly staff are here to help you, and have a wealth of knowledge gained during years of experience within the industry. Working with businesses from across the Northampton area, we have developed a great reputation for the quality of our print services.
