We’re music production specialists in London, working with global agencies and brands to create powerful, impactful, award-winning work. Creatively led by the renowned composer and audio branding consultant, Jonathan Goldstein, the company has scooped up an impressive array of awards including D&AD, British Arrows, London International Advertising Awards, Kinsale Shark Awards and Music and Sound Awards. With a wealth of experience and insightful understanding of branding, advertising and communication - whatever your project, we can guarantee it will sound right. GOLDSTEIN offers an extensive roster of media composers and songwriters who are able to offer a diverse range of skills from large orchestral scores to intimate sound signatures and re-records of commercial tracks. We are also happy to discuss music searches and licensing enquiries.
