Conway Funeral Home

20 South Street
Wodonga, 3690
Australia
+61260241093
https://conwayfuneralhome.com.au

Company logo

Company logo

Life is all about building relationships and sharing memories; and while living life means different things to different people, having a loving event of some kind celebrates the choices made, the relationship you shared, and honours the memory of your loved one. While many families find great value in following the traditions of those gone before, some choose to commemorate life with more unique reflections. Whatever your wish, Conway Funeral Home is here to assist with planning whatever is meaningful to you.

We understand that the passing of a loved family member or friend is a very difficult time for those who are left to cope with their loss.

We at Conway Funeral Home provide the very best individual care and support through this troubling time. We know that you are more than just a client and we would like you to feel that you're a part of our own family regardless of nationality, culture or religion.

Generated by Mapolist.com 11/11/2026 11:30