Peter M. Hsiao is the founding attorney and principal at the California Workers Compensation Lawyers. After graduating from University of Southern California in political science, he obtained his law degree from Whittier Law School in 2002.

In his early legal career Mr. Hsiao represented various self insured employers as well as insurance carriers in workers' compensation lawyers matters throughout the state of California. In the past he has represented claims seminars to third party administrators as well conducted claims reviews to employers. Through his decade long representation of employers and insurance carriers he has gained an unique perspective on how to prosecute claims on behalf of injured workers today. He understands how insurance carriers views each claim and more importantly how the insurance company is determining the value of each claim. See the reviews for Orange County work comp lawyers here.

Today through his zealous representation of injured workers Mr. Hsiao has been able to place each claim in the most favorable light and successfully negotiate the maximum settlements possible. Mr. Hsiao takes pride in being accessible to clients. He is a member of CAAA and the Los Angeles County Bar Association. From time to time Mr. Hsiao holds a talk show on the radio discussing various workers compensation issues confronting the community.
