At Vangeli all of our staff are true industry specialists. Their knowledge and skills are unsurpassed distinguishing them from retail jewellers.

Vangeli Diamonds

All Vangeli’s diamonds are hand selected by our diamond grader. Our world-wide network of diamond merchants are highly respected in their field and only supply quality diamonds.

All diamonds are not the same. Just because a diamond is the same colour, clarity and size as another, visually they can look very different. When you are buying a diamond it is an important decision. You should be well informed about your purchase.

There are many other factors that you need to know about a diamond. The internet information is rudimentary and often very misleading. There are many differentiating factors between buying a hand-selected diamond by our diamond grader than buying from a store or an internet diamond that you know very little about.

Vangeli have owned several opal mines in Lightning Ridge and are experts in the supply of black opal internationally and to Embassy personnel. They also supply loose and set South Sea pearls from Broome, Western Australia, as well as Champagne and Cognac diamonds. All gemstones are hand selected by the discerning staff at Vangeli, giving you the quality assurance you deserve.

Your diamond selection is guided by our master jeweller and diamond graders, according to Colour, Clarity and Cut, making sure that every one of our valued customers receive only the best quality and value. At Vangeli, we like our customers to be well informed before purchasing their diamond.
