Individuals injured in car accidents that are not their fault have the right to pursue compensation for all their losses. Unfortunately, insurance companies like to take advantage of unrepresented plaintiffs who are unfamiliar with personal injury law and their own rights to restitution. That is where the Boston car accident lawyers of the Law Office of John J. Sheehan, LLC come in.

A Boston personal injury lawyer like the Law Office of John J. Sheehan, LLC is effective when getting compensation in cases involving negligence or intentional injury. We work to ensure you understand the law, gather evidence, and author demand packages that give you the best possible chance of a successful outcome. The genesis of any personal injury claim is some element of physical harm. In fact, these cases cannot proceed without medical documentation of an actual physical injury.
