Since our establishment in 2007, LEV Recruitment has been driven by a passion to enhance employee well-being and safety within businesses. We believe that achieving this goal hinges on robust Health and Safety practices, driven by skilled professionals. That's where we step in. With a decade of experience and industry knowledge, our team of recruitment consultants excels at placing Health and Safety experts, from graduates to directors, in leading UK organizations. We ensure candidates possess the precise skills and qualifications needed to contribute to safer, happier, and more prosperous businesses
