When real estate professionals partner with me, I provide them with the right real estate tools, resources, and marketing strategies that overall help them get more deals. My background in video marketing and digital advertising puts me in a unique position when working with real estate professionals.

In addition to helping real estate professionals with their real estate marketing, I also help them with all of their title and escrow needs here at Chicago Title of Colorado. Chicago Title is the country's leading title insurance organization with more than 1,000 local offices nationwide. Our parent company, Fidelity National Financial, is a Fortune 500 company. We have a national presence but truly operate at a local level here in Colorado to serve our clients.
