Keen Property is a specialist valuation company. It was established by Darren Keen in 1995 and to this day enjoys a proven history within the property industry.

Keen Property offers professional and independent advice to assist clients in making informed property decisions. Close attention is paid to relationship management and providing excellent communication. We understand the complexities involved in establishing a property’s accurate value in today’s changing market and our team is active across the entire metropolitan landscape, including strata property valuation for apartments and shared properties.

Strategically located to take advantage of the developing sprawl of Sydney’s CBD and surrounding areas, Keen Property is committed to continuing the service excellence, together with the integrity and professionalism that has ensured the enviable reputation the company enjoys today.
