Sikri Farms is a national award-winning brand of vermicompost in India with one of India's largest manufacturing units of organic fertilisers. As one of the leading vermicompost suppliers in India, we manufacture products that comply with international standards. We offer a wide range of products, including earthworm Eisenia fetida, fertiliser for citrus, plant root growth stimulator, best fertiliser for apple trees, and more.

We help our authorised distributors across the country to grow their business with our quality products and timely delivery. We are the most trusted name when it comes to bio-organic fertiliser manufacturers in India. We assure the highest quality products to our customers as we use the most advanced technology and have experts who constantly monitor the production. With over fifteen years of experience and hundreds of satisfied customers, Sikri Farms has become one of India's most trusted brands for organic fertilisers.
