1300LOCATE are pioneers in the location and protection of utility assets in Australia. Damaging essential infrastructure such as gas mains, electricity cables, pipes, internet, and more, can be incredibly expensive and can even result in serious injury or death. That’s why it is always worth utilizing professional utility locating services before you commence any digging or construction work. We are industry leaders in the following underground utility services:

Underground Cable Locator – Through using advanced radio detection machinery we are able to precisely map and mark underground cables, including fiber-optic cables, electricity junctions and much more.

Ground Penetrating Radar – We use the latest technology that allows us to simultaneously scan for shallow and deep underground infrastructure through concrete and asphalt.

Non Destructive Digging – We also offer professional vacuum potholing services for when you need to dig around and beyond fragile underground services and infrastructure. We offer vacuum digging, excavation, and re-filling for any project from small trenching to deep excavation.

CCTV Drain Inspection – Our drain inspection cameras travel through pipes to identify any damage or blockages that requires work, which can be a cheaper and quicker alternative to investigation through excavation.

As Built Survey – We can identify underground assets and utilities to create an accurate as built survey to inform future construction works, reducing the risk of expensive mistakes.

Acoustic Leak Detection – Utilise our acoustic leak detection services to immediately identify if your water networks have sprung a leak, which can be very expensive if left untreated.

Geotechnical Clearances – 1300LOCATE has an experienced team that can provide you with important information on the geography of your site before construction begins. We provide reporting on soil types, densities, bearing ratios and more.

Confined Space Entry – Specific regulations apply to people working in confined spaces. 1300 Locate has all the necessary skills and clearances to conduct any confined space work on your premises.

Pipe and Conduit Cleaning – When your stormwater drains and pipes as well as sewer facilities are clogged with debris, silt, tree roots, or anything else, utilize our pipe and conduit cleaning services that require no digging.

Commercial Cleaning – Protect your assets with our professional commercial cleaning services. Offering full business and private premises interior and exterior washdowns, as well as high pressure washing for outdoor areas.
