Erin Jewell and Will Harty were partners for nearly 18 years at another prominent local firm before deciding to found Harty Jewell in 2022. With a combined total of over forty years of litigation experience in asbestos mesothelioma, product defect, personal injury cases, Erin and Will know the stress and anxiety that comes along with catastrophic injuries and navigating the legal system.

We have successfully guided hundreds of clients through the judicial system while freeing our clients and their families to focus on healing and supporting their loved ones. We offer free initial consultations and do not get paid a fee for product defect, personal injury, wrongful death or asbestos mesothelioma cases unless we recover compensation for you.

With Harty Jewell PLLC, rest assured you can feel comfortable, safe, and confident knowing that your case is in good hands. We are dedicated to seeking truth and justice, we are compassionate about our clients and helping them, and we strive to only provide diamond level legal services. Get in touch with us today — we look forward to hearing from you.
