Moon Star Seeds Pvt Ltd, based in Hyderabad, Sindh, Pakistan, is a leader in the export of high-quality vegetable seeds to global markets. Located near Karachi, our central position in the country allows us to efficiently cater to both local and international demands. With over five decades of hands-on experience, we are well-versed in the dynamic needs of the agricultural industry, ensuring that we consistently deliver excellence to our customers.

A Legacy of Quality and Trust

Moon Star Seeds is proud of its rich heritage as a family-owned business. Managed by the respected Kalhoro family for three generations, we bring a personal commitment to maintaining the highest standards. Our mission is simple yet profound, to provide farmers and distributors with seeds they can rely on for exceptional yield and performance. This dedication to quality and trust has earned us a loyal customer base across the globe.

10 R&D Personnel

We understand the importance of timely delivery and adaptability in today’s fast-paced market. Our “speed-to-market” approach ensures that we meet our customers’ requirements without delays, while our streamlined processes enable us to respond swiftly to changing market trends. We take pride in not just the quality of our seeds but also in the reliability of our services. We have 10 R&D personnel to develop our products.

High-performance Seed for Every Need

Moon Star Seeds is committed to offering only the best vegetable seeds, carefully selected to suit diverse agricultural environments. Our products are designed to empower farmers with high-yield crops, ensuring sustainable growth and profitability. By prioritizing rigorous quality standards, we remain a trusted partner in agriculture. While our expertise spans international markets, our roots remain firmly planted in Pakistan. We have a 4,000sqm factory. We are dedicated to supporting local farmers and distributors, ensuring their success alongside our global growth. By bridging the gap between local and international agricultural needs, we provide a unique value proposition to our clients.
