As a solo practitioner at Jos Family Law, Find the best Child Custody lawyer in Orange, California my focus is on helping families with legal matters that involve the most important people and aspects in their lives. When children are involved, the outcome of family law litigation should always be in the best interests of the child. You can trust my firm to help you navigate your family law dispute. Not only did I have a very successful career outside of law for more than 20 years, managing and training more than 1000 marketing directors, I also have first-hand experience in family law courts due to my own child custody battle.
