RPL services by RPL it Australia help individuals turn their existing skills, knowledge, and work experience into nationally recognised qualifications without the need for formal study. With a simple, guided process and flexible evidence-based assessment, RPL offers a faster, cost-effective pathway to advance your career across Australia.

RPL (Recognition of Prior Learning) through RPL it Australia provides a streamlined and practical way for professionals to convert their real-world experience into nationally recognised qualifications. Designed for individuals already working in their industry, RPL eliminates the need for traditional classroom study by assessing the skills and knowledge you’ve gained throughout your career.
