Bear Viewing in Alaska offers expertly guided, small-group Alaska bear viewing trips led by veteran guide Captain Mel Erickson, who has over 44+ years of experience in the wilds of Cook Inlet. Our tours take you deep into Chinitna Bay in Lake Clark National Park one of the best spots for Alaskan brown bear viewing and grizzly bear viewing in Alaska.

Unlike crowded, time-limited land tours, our boat-based bear viewing tours in Alaska provide flexible access to remote coastlines where bears roam freely. We operate daily from Anchor Point aboard The Alaskan Gamefisher, a custom-built vessel that reaches areas other boats can’t, even at low tide.

We supply all gear, including chest waders and hiking poles, to safely get you close to the action. From playful cubs to massive males digging clams, expect unforgettable moments and real wildlife encounters on every bear watching Alaska tour.

If you're seeking authentic Alaskan brown bear tours with comfort, safety, and expert guidance, join us for the adventure of a lifetime.
