The Weekend Tape creates nostalgic, guest-filmed wedding films using a real handheld camcorder. Couples receive a simple camcorder kit before their wedding, guests capture the weekend as it naturally unfolds, and the footage is edited into a candid, emotional home-movie style film.

It is a relaxed and personal way to remember the real moments that happen around the wedding day—the laughter, the dance floor, the behind-the-scenes chaos, the quiet in-between moments, and the people you love seeing the celebration from their point of view.
