We are LEaF and we stand for Language Expertise and Finesse. We are a friendly translation company based in York, providing translation and proofreading services to both local businesses and international clients.

Our small team of experienced, native-speaker translators are all highly qualified and experts in their respective languages and fields. All of our translations are also proofread by a second language expert to ensure excellent quality translations every time.

We are on a mission to prove that business can be ethical. We are fully carbon neutral and driven by a desire to have a positive impact – on you, your business and our planet. Contact us now to find more!
